

IDEA # 13

All-In-One Laundry Bag Wash System

---

Not that I am THAT lazy about doing wash, but it's just that I have lots of other better things to do with my time. I'm a very busy person! So I think that the current wash system is just awkward, slow, cumbersome, and that it might possibly be improved upon... slightly.

Only Slightly?

Yes only slightly. This is just a quick spurt idea that was born out of nothing more than being your average disgruntled laundry doer. Although, aren't most laundry doers disgruntled? I mean, who really wants to spend any amount of time dealing with stinky socks.

Would you hurry up and get to the idea already, this one is even dumber than all your previous ones put together.

Well SORRY, I guess someone had a bad day, mr./mrs. Sourpuss. Anyways, so the idea is pretty simple, and yes it is true that this is just a filler idea more than anything else. I promise next month's idea will be slightly better. Only slightly? Yes, only slightly.

OK, so here's my idea, after wasting all that time building up to it, it can be summed with nothing more than what we have in the title. I want a washing system that works the following way:

Step 1: Put dirty laundry in bag.

Step 2: Put bag in washer/dryer All-In-One device.

Step 2B: Press start button.

Step 3: Take laundry out of washer.

Step 4: Done!

Woooooooooooo doing laundry is fun again!

Ok so maybe that was somewhat lame. But, you know you'd want to buy it if it existed. Actually, it most likely does exist, I was simply too lazy busy to Google it.

Now if they could only make a device to fold and put the clothing away too.
